The greatest challenge to any thinker is stating the problem in a way that will allow a solution.

● Bertrand Russell (1872 - 1970)

To repeat what others have said, requires education; to challenge it, requires brains.

● Mary Pettibone Poole, A Glass Eye at a Keyhole, 1938

I guess what I'm trying to say is, I don't think you can measure life in terms of years. I think longevity doesn't necessarily have anything to do with happiness. I mean happiness comes from facing challenges and going out on a limb and taking risks. If you're not willing to take a risk for something you really care about, you might as well be dead.

● Diane Frolov and Andrew Schneider, Northern Exposure, Northern Lights, 1993

A day merely survived is no cause for celebration. You are not here to fritter away your precious hours when you have the ability to accomplish so much by making a slight change in your routine. No more busy work. No more hiding from success. Leave time, leave space, to grow. Now. Now! Not tomorrow!

● Og Mandino (1923 - 1996)

Weary the path that does not challenge. Doubt is an incentive to truth, and patient inquiry leadeth the way.

● Hosea Ballou (1796 - 1861)

The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.
